

C. W. FOSTER '74 FORMER MUSIC DIRECTOR DIES

Alumnus; Studied Violin Under Jochachin; Taught Private Music Classes; Composed Songs

Prof. Charles W. Foster '74, director of the School of Music in 1894-95, died yesterday morning at his home at 713 West Green street, Champaign, from the effects of grippe and complications which set in after an illness of 10 days.

Professor Foster was the organizer of the first student orchestra of the University, and also trained the first University male chorus.

Charles William Foster was born March 27, 1874, near Sheffield, England, and came with his parents to this country at a very early age. When he was 12 years old, the family returned to England, where he received his schooling under private tutors, and began his study of the violin.

Upon coming back to the United States he entered the University and graduated in 1874. Then he returned again to England and spent several years at Cambridge.

Student Under Jochachin
He also studied the violin under Jochachin, and became a member of the London Philharmonic orchestra.

Music was always his one great ambition, but his father had forced him to study law, so upon his final return from abroad he practiced law in Chicago. His marriage to Alethea Burnan, of Clear Lake, Ia., took place in 1894, and then he settled in Champaign.

Next he took the position of director of the School of Music, and after that established his own school of music in Champaign, which he had conducted until his recent illness forced him to give it up.

Known as Composer
His entire life had been devoted to building up an appreciation for and development of ensemble playing. He composed a great deal, but published little. One war song which he published in 1917, "We Want the Kaiser's Helmet Now" was one of his best known works.

Professor Foster is survived by his wife and two daughters, Alethea and Alicebeth.

Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the home. The Rev. F. D. Adams of the Universalist church of Elgin, will officiate, and interment will take place in Roselawn cemetery.

Marine Subsidy Maximum Placed At Fifty Million

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Establishment of a privately owned merchant marine through government aid, as proposed by President Harding and the shipping board, would necessitate a maximum treasure outlay of $52,000,000 annually, Senate and House committee considering the ship subsidy bill were told today by Chairman Lasker of the board. Enactment of the legislation would put an end, he contended, to the $50,000,000 yearly loss the shipping board is sustaining in operating its vessels.

Pressed for an estimate of the probable cost of the administration program, he gave general totals with an explanation that experts would give details later.

In computing $52,000,000 as the probable government expenditures for "direct aid", Mr. Lasker allowed, for conversion into the merchant marine fund, $30,000,000 to be derived from custom receipts, $4,000,000 in tonnage due, $5,000,000 now paid for certain classes of foreign mails and $3,000,000 in construction charges.

Accounting for the remaining $10,000,000, he explained it was expected that the deduction amounting to this figure would be made in income taxes payable by shipping companies.

The cost of maintaining the merchant marine naval reserve, which would be created by the bill, would be defrayed from the marine funds.

J. B. Holston '23 was appointed chairman of the senior memorial committee of the junior class last night by T. F. Casson '23, president of the class. The committee was appointed to investigate the nature of the memorial after sanction for its appointment was given in the meeting of the class yesterday afternoon in 100 Commerce Building.

The other members of the committee are Nellie Barry, Mary Elizabeth Hanger, Lucille Lingenfelter, Florence May, Willa McKown, LaRue Robertson, Aenid Tankersley, P. K. Bresee, H. A. Croil, F. Gilmore, M. E. Mann, T. E. McCann, F. L. Rice, and E. G. Thiel.

The consensus of opinion of the members of the class present was that work on the senior memorial should be started immediately.

Suggestions for a memorial were: the illumination of the University Hall clock, Endowment of a professorship and the placing of a statue of Lincoln in Lincoln Hall. Nothing was decided in regard to the number of classes to be included in whatever gift the appointed committee proposes.

WEBNER SAYS NAVY HARBORS OVERHEAD

Compensation Board Worker Claims Appropriations Cause Waste of Money

Owing to the complexity of dispersing appropriations and the strictness with which government employees must adhere to these regulations, there is much waste prevailing in the United States navy department today, according to Frank E. Webner, certified public accountant and civil assistant to the compensation board of the United States navy, Washington, D. C., who was on the campus yesterday.

This waste consists in having work done outside the government plants due to the exhaustion of certain appropriations. In such cases, new appropriations are available for work done outside.

Waste in Overhead
This constitutes a waste in overhead charges in that the labor facilities are at hand in the government plants, but are unavailable because of the exhaustion of the original appropriation.

Similar evils exist in department in manufacturing plants, according to Mr. Webner.

Postpone Small Trial Again; New Date Is April 17

(By Associated Press)

WAUKEGAN, April 6.—Governor Small's trial on charges of conspiracy to embezzle state funds was postponed again today, this time until April 17, after both sides reached an agreement on a method of selecting a jury, and after both agreed that there would be no further delay.

The agreement was overshadowed, however, by testimony of Louis E. Beckman, cashier of the First Trust and Saving Bank of Kankakee, of which Governor Small is president, that no record of the governor's accounts in his bank prior to last November could be found and the testimony of Norman Griffin, cashier of the Grant Park Trust and Savings bank that books and papers of that bank bearing the case were burned by a janitor who has since died.

Beckman On Stand
James H. Wilkerson, assistant attorney-general of Illinois, put Mr. Beckman and Mr. Griffin on the stand in an effort to locate books and records subpoenaed by the state and which, he said, had not been produced.

At the conclusion of his examination Mr. Wilkerson said, addressing the court—"I think this is a most extraordinary situation. I have never in my life seen a case where the books of a president of a bank could not be produced, or a thing like this," referring to Mr. Griffin's testimony about the burning of the records "and I have been practicing law for a long time."

A. Brown of the department of electrical engineering, inaugurated the radio broadcasting service of the University last night at the electrical engineering laboratory.

Miller Indicted On Certificate Graft Charges

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, April 6.—W. H. H. Miller of Champaign, director of the Illinois department of education and registration; K. A. Fries, son-in-law of Miller; Dr. O. Borque, dean of the Chicago medical college; and William B. Roniarook Chicago druggist, were indicted today under charges of acceptance of bribes in connection with the issuance of state certificates to practice medicine and pharmacy.

The indictments were returned after an investigation of the department by the Cook county grand jury. The investigation brought forth the evidence that applicants for certificates to practice when refused a license would be given a "study course" that would fit them to pass the examinations.

Certificates Promised
Witnesses testified that they were guaranteed certificates upon the payment of sums for the "study course". A few witnesses told of receiving certificates after they had paid the amount asked.

The probe has been conducted by Charles Hamilton, assistant states attorney. The witnesses secured by Hamilton include several applicants for certificates before the state board. Many applicants it is said were entirely unprepared for the positions but through methods of the "study course" and the payments in connection they were able to secure licenses to practice medicine, dentistry and pharmacy in Illinois.

TEA TIME IN TIBET SHOWS FIRST TIME TONIGHT AT ILLINOIS

Manager Len Hunt '22 Reports Cast, Properties, Set for Current Raiser of 1922 Opera

"Tea Time in Tibet" the first student opera of the University to play in Chicago, produced by Pierrot of Illinois Union, under the management of L. G. Hunt '22, will be seen for the first time at 8:15 o'clock tonight at the Illinois theatre.

There are still a few good seats left for tonight's performance. These will be placed on sale at 1 o'clock at the theatre. Gallery seats at 83 cents will sell at the same time.

The book of the opera which has two acts and two scenes, was written by T. P. Bourland '23, G. V. Buchanan '22 and O. D. Burge '22. Thirteen of the fifteen musical numbers have their lyrics written by G. V. Buchanan '22, and were composed by W. D. Donahue '22, who will lead the orchestra of 14 pieces.

First Scene, Bloomington

The first scene of the opera is laid in Bloomington in front of a country club. Dr. Bangs, father of Biff Bangs, forbids his son's marriage to Fifi Royce, whom he considers too extravagant. A plot is conceived whereby Bangs is pretended to be transported to Tibet by means of a pneumatic tube. There he is frightened by the Yak, the national animal of Tibet, and his consent to the marriage is gained through a ruse. The second scene shows Tibet, in oriental splendor.

Scores of the opera will be on sale at $1 at the performance and at the Student Supply Store. C. W. Baughman '22 is the designer of the cover of the score and program.

Rehearse For Month

"Tea Time in Tibet" has been rehearsing since March 8 under the direction of William Troutman of the department of public speaking. LeRoy Prinz of Northwestern and Chicago, has been the director of the chorus.

All of the scenery of the opera has been constructed and painted by students. The men in charge of the work are: E. L. Hubbell '22, A. G. Fordyce '22 and W. F. Volk '23.

"Everything is set for the opening performance," was Hunt's statement last night. All the ponies and show girls whose costumes arrived yesterday are asked to come from 9 o'clock to 1:30 o'clock today to the theatre.

ILLINOIS MINERS REFUSE TO JOIN IN CONFERENCE

Watkins, Spokesman For Pennsylvania Producers, Defends Attitude Of Operators

BULLETIN

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, April 6.—The Illinois coal operators today joined the Indiana, Northern Ohio and Pittsburgh mine owners in declining an invitation to a joint conference of miners and operators, issued by Chairman Nolan of the House Labor committee.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—A defense of the bituminous coal operators' position in refusing to negotiate a central agreement with the miners' union was given by T. H. Watkins, a spokesman for Pennsylvania producers, before the House labor committee today in its investigation of the coal strike, and at the same time an intimation was given by Attorney-General Daugherty through a letter from him that the mine owners would face no prosecution under anti-trust laws if they again saw fit to fix national wages in the industry by such an agreement.

Attacks Union

He attacked the United Mine Workers of America, as "setting up a smoke screen, familiar union tactics," in charging the operators with breach of contract. The union itself, he said, was breaking the contract, because it refused to meet with mine owners in the great producing districts of the country outside of Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, and Western Pennsylvania, to fix scales.

It would be "financial suicide" he added, for the operators to continue to make its wages on the interstate agreement for which negotiations have not been begun, and he accused the union leaders of "autocratic abuse of powers" in calling the national strike. Representative Bland suggested that if the struggle was allowed to go on, "the railroads and the steel interests and other industrial enterprises would be all lined up on one side and all union labor on the other."

All of the programs for the fete were not distributed yesterday, and all ticket holders must get them at 408 Engineering Hall before 6 o'clock tonight, as no distribution will be made after that time.

Ricker library on the fourth floor of Engineering Hall will be the scene of the pageant, and dancing. The corridors have been decorated and will be used as promenades.

ALPHA CHI RHO WINS PIN. TITLE TOURNNEY

Theta Delta Chi Meets Defeat In Final Match of Meet

Winning all three games in its match with Theta Delta Chi, first division champions, last night on the Arcade Alleys, Alpha Chi Rho was proclaimed champion of the inter-fraternity bowling tournament.

The champions bowled a consistent match and kept pace with its good bowling standard set in its opener with Tau Kappa Epsilon. Tau Kappa Epsilon pinmen represented the third division and were practically eliminated from championship hopes when Alpha Chi Rho beat them last week.

Alpha Chi Rho finished its first game with a 69 pin lead, followed in the second with a 93 margin and completely smothered Theta Delta Chi in the last when it won by 237.

Highest bowl last night was landed by Pfeiffer who rolled a total of 201 pins in the opening game.

'PATCH AND GRIN' CLUB THREATENS TO RETURN ACCORDING TO EXPERTS

"Never before in my ten years of practice about the campus have I seen so many patched shoes and reinforced trousers," said Ben Barnes, the shoe shiner and trouser creaser at one of the University district pressing shops yesterday.

Ben recalled with a smile the days when his customers almost invariably put a pair of bright, smooth boots up on the foot rest before his eyes, instead of the patched, rough pigskins that he so often has to "lustrate" now. "Tis a hardup bunch of students here this year and I wonder when some of them will quit bringing in the same old pair of trousers to be reinforced every month," said Ben. "I have fixed many of them until now they are nothing but a series of patches."

Prof. W. S. Monroe, head of the bureau of educational research, is in Salem on business.

EASTER CHICKS ON DISPLAY IN AGRICULTURE SHOWCASE

Weather conditions cannot override the latest predictions that Easter is at hand.

Fifty chicks are pecking away contentedly in the showcase of the main corridor of the Agriculture Building under the glowing warmth of a thermostat. Half of the number are white Plymouth Rocks, the other half, although Rhode Island Reds, have not developed into the fullest intensity of that color.

Five meals a day are given to this shiftless crowd happily conspicuous before the public eye. The chicks will be left there on display for a week and then will be added to the rest of the poultry in the agriculture poultry barns.

DIAMOND DUSTERS LEAVE FOR SOUTHLAND TONIGHT

LUNDGREN SELECTS 16 CANDIDATES FOR ANNUAL DIXIE TRIP

Southern Series Opens With University of Mississippi at Oxford Tomorrow Afternoon

Sixteen men will catch the south-bound Illinois Central train tonight to open the baseball season with the University of Mississippi at Oxford, Miss., tomorrow afternoon. The following men will make the trip. Captain McCurdy, first baseman, Barnes, Jackson, McCann, Mohr, Banker and Roettgen, pitchers, Maxwell, second baseman, Stewart and Hellstrom, shortstops, Dougherty and Robinson, catchers and Vogel, Peden, Reichle and Crossley, outfielders.

Jackson Ineligible
The list is conditional as Jackson is at present ineligible because of a deficiency in T. & A. M. He has written a special examination which is now being graded, and hopes to have a clean record by the opening of the season.

The team will play Mississippi tomorrow and then journey to Starkville where it will meet Mississippi A. & M. Monday. Tuesday morning it will leave Starkville for Tuscaloosa, Ala., where it will play one game with Alabama state. On the following day Lundgren will return to Clinton, Mississippi, for one game with Mississippi college before returning to Champaign.

Crossley Leads Off
The team will be the most powerful that Illinois has sent to Dixie in several years and opposing pitchers will find the batting order a nightmare.

Crossley is batting in the lead-off position followed by Reichle and McCurdy with Vogel cleaning the bases. In the second section of the list Hellstrom leads with Dougherty, Peden, Stewart and Jackson following. Every man in the list is a consistent hitter and has been going well this season.

R.O.T.C. AVIATORS GO TO CHANUTE TOMORROW

In order to practice with the Lewis machine gun, students in the second year basic course in the aviation division of the R.O.T.C. will go to Chanute field, Rantoul tomorrow morning to practice on the range there.

The basic course has been giving instruction in aerial gunnery this semester, and from now on, there will be practice with the instruction, according to Capt. J. G. Whitesides of the United States Air service.

Students who wish to take the aviation examination will be taken to Chanute field on Saturday mornings until all have been examined.

MEMBERS OF RIFLE CLUBS TO COMPETE FOR TROPHIES

Members of the R.O.T.C. and the women's rifle club will be given an opportunity to compete for marksmanship in the annual individual rifle match to be staged from 7 to 9 o'clock Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday nights at the Armory range, according to the announcement made yesterday by Lieut. E. R. Golden of the United States Army here.

All students who qualify and are planning to enter the match are requested to report to the military office before 12 o'clock tomorrow, to be given proper certificates of entry.

A rotating trophy will be the award for the winner and 10 medals will be given for the highest scores.

ILLINOIS SPORT HISTORY

Begging Your Pardon

Annie Oakley: "I fear that your statement regarding my five years' of baseball in yesterday's Illini, may cause obfuscation in some athletic minds. As it would be bad to have any of the baseball team obfuscated just before the southern trip I would state that there were two Carnahans on the team at the time you mention. The other Carnahan, although a brother was not even a twin and resembled me only in bulk."

D. H. CARNAHAN.

It is such a pleasure to correct a mistake for Dr. Carnahan that we could almost make another one just for the pleasure of correcting it. In order to be certain that he was not evading an eligibility rule we looked the question up in the alumni directory and found that he was correct. G. Huff also came to his aid. Carnahan was one of the team's most valuable men according to Huff. He was a first baseman, but in an emergency he could step to the box and pitch a good game. The alumni directory also yielded the information that he is the brother of No. 685 and the husband of No. 6364. This qualifies him for the 100 percent Illini club.

INTERSECTIONAL GAMES

Some opponents of intersectional games maintain that the great interest in sports which they would cause would react against intra-mural sports. Illinois never had a good system of intra-mural sports until intercollegiate games aroused interest in those sports. As a result of this interest 1,000 men were entered in the recent intra-mural relay carnival. At Ohio 3,000

UNIT TEAMS SWELL I-M BASEBALL LIST

Additional Entries May Require Formation of New League; Diamonds Laid Out

Thirty units have already declared their intention to enter teams in the intra-mural baseball tournament scheduled to begin immediately after Easter.

All unit teams probably will be combined into one league while fraternities and independent teams will each compose a league. Last year there were only two leagues. Due to the organization of the units it has become necessary to split up the entries which are expected to exceed those of last year.

Entry blanks will be sent out to all fraternities and unit athletic chairmen today and all teams should be enrolled through them. The fee is $2.50 and the blanks can be either mailed to the intra-mural department or delivered at the Gym Office.

Teams Asked To Sign
As it is impossible to reach all of the possible independent teams that will be entered in the tournament, all independent teams wishing to enter should report to the Gym office for their entry blanks.

There will be 10 diamonds plotted out for use in the tournament this year as compared to seven for last. The extra number of diamonds will be made from military drill grounds and vacant territory situated about the campus.

Prof. Charles W. Foster

With the passing of Prof. Charles W. Foster, the University has lost one of her most loyal sons. Professor Foster was a member of the third graduating class at the University, the class of 1874. He was director of the School of Music here in 1894; it is to him that the University owes much of its attainment in the field of music. He organized and directed the first student orchestra at the University and was director of the first Illinois male chorus.

Professor Foster was in addition a talented violinist and composer. He was born in Sheffield, England, in 1854 but came to the United States at age of six. He has lived a colorful life, starting out as a music student, changing to the study of law at his father's request, and returning to music because he found it the work he loved best and was best fitted for. As a resident of Champaign he has kept in touch with the University and her affairs, and has often proved himself a devoted Illini.

In Professor Foster's death one of the University's links with the past is broken.

The Varsity Heads South

Sixteen Illinois men leave the University at 9 o'clock tonight for the annual spring training trip through the south. After more than three months of competition, in which more than a hundred Illinois baseball players have been entered, the names of the chosen squad have been announced.

The spring trip is a pleasure which any athlete in the University would be glad to have. But it is a pleasure that has been earned by many hours of practice in all kinds of weather and despite all kinds of conflicting interests. If the training trip has aspects of a pleasant tour through the southland, it is only that much more of a reward to the deserving.

Illinois will follow the baseball squad during its trip. We shall be eager to hear of the ante-season victories, and we shall watch for details of the team's travels. We shall even be glad to hear of the gastronomic feats of the Varsity when it is set before that world-famous southern cooking.

But most of all we shall be interested in the trip because when it is completed, we shall have our games on Illinois Field. For there's nothing like watching a good Illinois baseball game in the spring, and a few more days like yesterday are going to make us wonder who's patted down the calendar pad.

So here's to Coach Lundgren and the southern trip.

A Handshake a Week

Through the newly-licensed radio broadcasting station here, the University will gain one distinct and outstanding advantage—a better informed alumni. The University will be able to keep in touch with its graduates regularly, and will keep them up to the minute in University events. Carl Stephens, editor of the aqfn has already informed alumni of the service, and an effort will be made to have Illinois clubs throughout the country to meet Thursday nights, when the University will send out radio letters on the events of the week.

Conveying the sounds of University life will give a much more personal touch than the cold, black type of newspaper and magazine correspondence. Seniors of years before may hear the Chimes and realize that their fund was well spent. Alumni may renew acquaintances when they hear their former professors lecturing. The atmosphere of the campus may be transferred to distant points through reproductions of campus lectures, concerts, mass meetings, and recitals. The radio service will quicken the life of the Illini clubs, and will keep the alumni acquainted with Illinois. Both alumni and the University should profit.

Lack of Equipment

The warm weather has issued in the season of baseball for women, and more than 100 women have turned out for practice. Along with baseball about 200 women are participating in bowling, and 200 in swimming and gymnastics. This brings up the all-interesting and ever-present question: Where do so many women get their athletic equipment?

The answer is: They don't! Of course they make the best they can of what they have—but for about 1500 registered, what they have is not enough. The swimming pool is too small, the bowling alley too inclusive, the tennis courts too limited and the showers too few.

Along with the many other improvements being suggested at this time, the question of improved facilities for women athletes should be prominent. The department of physical education for women has done remarkably well with the little equipment they have.

The Senior Memorial Chimes can be made our most powerful instrument of musical education," observed the Lino-saur yesterday. "The chimer has the University community under his hand, as it were. He can play 'Dixie' and the three thousand of us from central Illinois will rejoice. He can play the University songs and inspire pride. But on the other hand he can venture into a depth of technical music that would cause the average 'pop' concert crowd to hie them for the doors. No one can object. True, he may shut the windows, or stop his ears, but the highbrow music rolls in upon him just the same. At last we have it, the means of forcing the lowbrow to elevate their foreheads."

"Students have the popular illusion that they must have an all-campus vote in order to choose their presidents," declared the Walrus yesterday as he watched the politicians scurrying hither and yon. "But really the officers are elected by the machinations of High Councils. Things can't be squared away for an election until all the dangerous candidates have been induced to withdraw or have been given a retaining fee."

A little tempest has blown up at California, where a dramatic club was considering the presentation of "Hindle Wakes" a problem play. If a college community cannot stand frankness we don't know what class of persons ever will. There's certainly enough frankness in college conversations. Why not have it upon the stage?

The fraternity, that has its pledges perform in public initiation stunts is generally of the sort that has a great deal of bellows and very little forging.

Being quarantined this time of year is about as thrilling as watching a game of horse-shoes.

It's an optimistic editor that refers to "our previous editorials".

Others' Opinions

Bringing the L. G. F. H.

Editor Illini: Co-Edna is right. Imports are not prettier, better-dressed, or more lady-like, than our co-eds. However, looks aren't everything. Sometimes, at least, you must admit, Co-Edna, there is a heart-flutter or two taking place while the imports are in town. Very often it is more than that; maybe the import is one's fiancé.

The average man at Illinois does not fuss about one girl. If he does she comes to his dances. If he doesn't, he may bring one of his long list of girls, or he may decide to change scenery and send for the little girl at home. It's a cinch that he would have her here all the time if possible, but he can't afford it, and neither can she. He therefore selects the outstanding functions to which to bring his l.g.a.h. This is no slam at Co-Edna.

Between times we must have diversion, good times, dancing practice, and all that sort of thing. On these occasions we will call on you, Co-Edna, and if you do not care to step out with us, that is perfectly all right. There are other things that would look kindly upon our attentions.

I like X's. Sometimes, however, I am out of them and have to bum another brand of cigarette. Or maybe I am broke, and can't afford the better brand, but must roll my own.

Yours very truly,
TOP NOEL '23

Fraternity Formals

Editor Illini: Barrels of good money are spent by fraternity and sorority houses every year on formal dances. Such affairs may be classed as good times, but they are expensive entertainment for a single evening. Every house gives one simply because every other house gives one; in at least fifty percent of the fraternities a formal is given simply to keep up appearances. There is a feeling, somehow, that it adds to the prestige of the house. Although favors have been forbidden, this rule is constantly circumvented by attaching the favors to the programs or in some way evading the technicalities of mere Pan-Hellenic by-law. Elaborate dance programs have been carried to a ridiculous extreme until this item becomes one of the heaviest of dance expenditures. Houses spend from $75 to $250 on a single affair of this kind—a most unwarranted extravagance. Why keep up a social competition that increases expenses so materially? Most people have a better time at informal dances anyway—especially the men.

K. K. K.

(Editor's Note: K. K. K. writes upon extravagance, something which has troubled the world ever since Adam's over-indulgence in fruit. K. K. K. perhaps overlooked the fact that many can afford to attend grand opera instead of the nickelodeum.)

Misuse of Illini

Editor Illini: Allow us to raise our voice in a high-pitched yodel against the misuse of the word "Illini" these last few weeks in various papers throughout the state. We read, "Form Eastern Illini Ball league with Seven Franchises," and with interest continue to peruse the sheet, expecting to hear of some new activity of Illini of old only to discover that the head merely referred to a league in Eastern Illinois.

Recently a campaign was made to have the state regularly adopt "Illini" as a nickname but the effort was of no avail. Personally we prefer to keep it ourselves as referring to the University. Please, Mr. Headwriter, try to make it Illinois instead of Illini.

S. S.

The Late-Comers

Editor Illini: Question: What is more disgusting than late arrivals straggling in, slamming and banging seats at a special lecture?

Answer: Late arrivals leaving before the lecture is completed.

There may be excuses for leaving a lecture room, but there are none for entering once the speaker has begun his lecture. The guilty, no doubt, were full of self, and preached it by their intrusion. Common courtesy should have kept them away.

One, arriving late, flopped himself in the seat before me and weaved his head, ape-fashion, back and forth across my line of vision, leaving thirty minutes later.

JOHN C. FAUNCE.

The Other Foot

(Daily Nebraskan)

The other day we delivered a lengthy lecture admonishing students to become better acquainted with their professors—to know them as human personalities instead of classroom mechanisms. Today we are going to put the shoe on the other foot and talk to the professors. Prepare for a bit of advice, ye pedagogues.

While we admit that it is up to the student to get his education in the best way he can and that doing so is absolutely dependent upon him in the final analysis, we nevertheless lament the fact that too few instructors take any interest in the welfare of the students except for the particular hour during which he lectures to them. There are many ways in which a professor can aid a student besides hurling cold facts at him in the classroom.

"Yesterday we overheard an instructor telling a student that he (the instructor) didn't care whether the student ever got to class or not, or whether he learned anything about the subject; that he wasn't going to waste any time trying to help him outside of the class hour and that everything was up to the student himself."

Maybe the instructor was justified. We can't discuss the merits of this particular case. But you will agree that this is a very poor policy for faculty members to follow in general and that this instructor used harsh words indeed.

Remember that the student is human, professor.

Candidate for Sheriff

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF

John Gray, candidate for sheriff, subject to the Republican primary, April 11, is an Urbana concrete contractor. He has been a member of the Republican County Central Committee most of the time for the past 20 years, and was secretary of that organization in 1908.

He has been a member of the Board of Supervisors the past seven years, and has an excellent record of service.

During the war, when conditions grew so bad in Champaign County that Secretary-of-War Baker, through his personal representative, Lieut. Beckwith, demanded a clean up, the Board of Supervisors undertook the task. Mr. Gray, a member of the Judiciary Committee, was one of the two men actively engaged on the job. It was efficiently done.

THE DATE CALAMITOUS

The rain has kissed the streets; and calm,
A healing veil of gray o'er spreads
The garish city with its misty balm
Of silence; while the street light sheds
A faint half glow. The noisy day is dead.

But I, alas—I tear my hair,
And rave in wild recrimination,
And count my cash with fevered care.
This downpour brings no soul elation.
Ah, woe is me; I call the taxi station!
—Tukulti-Ninib.

Yes, Tuk, we noticed, too, how that cursed downpour changed "ding, ding,
—7 cents" into "honk honk, $2.00."

HERE IS SLIP'S CAROL OF VENOM

I can gather my books, I can lift up the arm,
Grant pardons, arise with a smile.
I can hold back cold looks, and I don't

As with hat rack he fidgets the while.
He can sharpen his pencil, spatter-ink
on my hose,
Crunch papers, drop books on the floor.
But when quickly he rises, slams the seat on my toes—
God help me to show him the door!
—Slip.

A tufaceous formation, having the constituent parts so firmly adhering as free,

The taggers tagged right merrily,
A youth there came, tho slightly late,
To dance, to talk, or make a date,
Or eat, or loaf, or just to see.

He stood about with idle air
Until a form divinely rare
Bobbed for a moment into sight;
He shoved the mob to left or right,
And waded out to tag her there.

That damsel wore one awful face,
I parodied the human race;
She couldn't dance, nor walk, nor fly,
Her hair got angled in his eye,
He tried to quit, and then to die,
Or lure her out to eat some pie,
But couldn't. 'Twas a fearful case!

GRAY KEPT CHAMPAIGN CLEAN DURING THE WAR

the Champaign News of July 14, 1918, says:

"When John Gray's committee first received instructions from the board of supervisors some predicted that the work would fail. Opposition at once developed and many things were done in an attempt to make the work of the committee ineffective. But John Gray stuck to his purpose and declared that nothing would be left undone that could be done to clean up the county. The county and particularly Champaign and Urbana, have never been so clean as regards all forms of vice, as it is today, and his last move gives promise of making things still better. Of course, much assistance has been given—invaluable assistance—but the moving spirit has been the untiring efforts of John Gray, and the thanks of all the people of the county are due him."

"The Law Enforcement and Legislative League has given Mr. Gray the following endorsement:

"To the Voters of Champaign County: Knowing, as we do, by his record, Mr. John Gray as a fearless law enforcement worker, we urge all our friends to unite for his election for Sheriff. To divide our vote at this time would be a calamity. We will expect each of our 95 central committeemen to use their best efforts for his election."

"This letter was authorized by the Executive Committee of the Champaign County Law Enforcement and Legislative League."

A. B. Dennis, Asst. U. S. District Attorney at Danville, who was of invaluable assistance to the Judiciary Committee in their clean-up campaign, writes as follows:

Danville, Ill.,
March 14, 1922.

John Gray,
Urbana, Ill.

Dear Sir: I have looked up the records in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Illinois, with reference to cases brought by the Judiciary Committee of the Champaign Board of Supervisors. I am not sure I have the complete record, but the following is the record, so far as I am able to obtain it at this time: (Then follows the list of convicted bootleggers, showing an aggregate of $6,635 in fines and a total of 1,660 days in jail sentences.) This is the greatest number of cases that has ever been brought to our court from any one county during the same period of time, and I think the records will show that it is more cases than was brought to our court by all the other forty-two counties in this district combined during the period in time covered by the cases in question.

I wrote Rev. S. E. Fisher of Champaign a letter in regard to your work in this connection some time ago, and if you care to do so you may use that letter in any way you see fit.

Very truly yours,
A. B. DENNIS,
Asst. U. S. District Attorney.

Dear Mr. Fisher:
Your letter in regard to John Gray just received. John Gray did not test-fy in favor — or any other boot-legger. Let me assure you that if John Gray is not a good man for sheriff, then you haven't anybody in your county who is capable or suitable for that office. Your letter convinces me that character assassins are busy in your county and that they are making headway in their nefarious work. One reason why it is so hard to get good men in office or to keep them there is because those who should stand by them don't do it. If you've got a man in Champaign county that the decent people should back to the limit it is John Gray. He has been tried and has stood steadfast. I know whereof I speak because I have tried him out. I am a Democrat. He is a Republican. I have no motive except an anxious solicitude to see a man who has been on the firing line and has done his duty, backed up by all good citizens. Do not doubt John Gray. I am,

Very truly yours,
A. B. DENNIS,
Asst. U. S. District Attorney.

MOWERY DEPLORES MODERNIST THEME

Miss Constance Syford Defends
Free Verse Before English
Journal Club

Highlights of the themes prevalent in modern short stories were struck out from the mass of current magazines last evening by W. B. Mowery of the department of English at the same meeting of the English Journal club at which Miss Constance Syford, also of the department of English, gave a spirited defense of vers libre.

Sifting out types of short stories and taking up each in turn, Mr. Mowery lamented the popular worship of business success in stories, but justified it as a new shape of a tendency normal in all ages. His talk was not meant to cover his field thoroughly but more to pick out the essential identity of the modern short story with the medieval tale, and to evaluate it concisely.

Miss Syford Speaks

Miss Syford first explained the basic principles of the new poetry, as enunciated in 1913 by the six principal impressionists.—Common language, new rhythms for new moods, absolute freedom of subject, presentation of an image, clearness and concentration.

These, Miss Syford pointed out, have been characteristics of all great poetry from the beginning. Modern verse is incomprehensible at times, she said, because its images are too lofty, and need a program of argument to make them plain.

UNIVERSITY D. A. R. TAKE INDIAN NAME

Shemaua, Pottowatomie Chief,
To Be Patron Saint of Local Chapter

Shemaua Chapter of the University of Illinois was the name chosen at a meeting yesterday by the members of the University chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution for the campus chapter of the national society.

The name was chosen because Shemaua, chief of the Pottowatomie Indians was born in 1757 in Urbana, and made his home here. The famous old chieftan was always a friend of the white man, and often helped him in building his cabins.

Consider Memorial

The matter of the chapter's presenting a memorial shaft to the University in memory of the Shemaua was discussed, and it was voted that a committee be appointed to consider means of starting a fund for such a purpose.

Adra Shutt, regent, 301 South Wright street, Champaign, urged that all old members of the chapter send in their dues of $2 to her as soon as possible. When the national congress of D.A.R. convenes this month in Washington all members who have not paid their dues will be dropped from the national chapter.

A reading was given by Olwen Leach '24. A committee was appointed to interest the chapter members in sending a barrel of clothes to Crossmore mountain school in North Carolina. The school is supported solely by the sale of old clothes and is at present in great need of them.

My deeds, though manifold
No Skald in song has told,

Bearded and armored, defiance in his posture and fierce determination in his eyes, he stands at the bow of his masted ship,—and just outside the door of the museum of European culture on the fourth floor of Lincoln Hall.

Inset in the west wall of the corridor one may see the Norse ship breasting the waves, its sails set. It is a Dwight Franklin model, and the only one of its kind in existence.
